

The diagram illustrates a business card layout with three main sections. On the left is a large cyan-bordered rectangle representing the live area. To its right are two magenta-bordered rectangles representing the bleed area. The top-left magenta box contains a cyan-bordered rectangle with a circular punch hole at the bottom center. The top-right magenta box contains a cyan-bordered rectangle. The bottom magenta box is a large cyan-bordered rectangle spanning the width of the page below the top two boxes.
